Milan, July 10, 2007

Dear Mr. Bradbury,

As you know, Confindustria Marmomacchine's busy work agenda also includes formalizing many cooperation agreements with Italian and foreign organizations important to the stone sector. Particularly important among these is the one that sanctions Confindustria Marmomacchine's role as official endorser of "The Natural Stone Show", the leading English event devoted to natural stones and the technology to work them. This is a sponsorship that, after a period of close assessment of Britain's tradeshow scenario, has selected The Natural Stone Show as the one of choice for the Italian association of makers and users of machinery and equipment for working natural stones.

In fact, faced with an unchecked proliferation of events devoted to the world stone industry, Confindustria Marmomacchine has decided to make specific choices, thus aiding the development and growth of those most favored by Italian companies, and above all giving those companies the finest tools for orientation on the often intricate international fair scene.

And Confindustria Marmomacchine's support for The Natural Stone Show is part of this clarification process, in the conviction that the 2008 edition will be a useful showcase for all the Italian companies in the sector.

With all best wishes for a successful 2008 edition,

Very cordially,

*Flavio Marabelli, President
Confindustria Marmomacchine*
